Air Cambodia to Launch New Narita - Fuzhou (China) - Phnom Penh (Cambodia) Route from October 26, 2025

Air Cambodia (IATA Code: K6) will launch a new flight route between Narita and Phnom Penh (Cambodia) via Fuzhou, China, from October 26, 2025. The company, Cambodia's national flag carrier, will be the only airline connecting Japan and Cambodia.

Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, is an attractive city with thriving history and culture. As a tourist destination where visitors can experience the charm of Khmer culture, such as the Royal Palace of Cambodia and Wat Phnom, known for its beautiful architecture and sculptures, the city has been becoming more and more popular among Japanese travelers in recent years.

Please note that since Phnom Penh International Airport (PNH) has ended operations, flights on this route will depart from and arrive at Techo International Airport (KTI), which newly opened as Phnom Penh's new gateway on September 9, 2025.

The launch of this route from Japan to Cambodia marks the first such service in about four and a half years since 2021. This route offers customers a new option for both tourism and business travel. We invite you to take advantage of Narita Airport's expanded network.
