

Amendment to Passenger Security Service Charge (PSSC)

Narita International Airport Corporation (NAA) will amend the International Passenger Security Service Charge (PSSC) at Narita International Airport as outlined below, effective from 1 September 2024.

In thorough pursuit of safety and security, we have strived to achieve a high-quality aviation security system at Narita Airport.

Since pre-COVID-19 pandemic, the shortage of security screening officers has been a problem at airports across the country, and we have made efforts to improve the treatment of security screening officers in order to have sufficient security screeners at Narita Airport.

However, along with the rapid recovery of air service demand after the pandemic, the shortage of security screening officers is becoming increasingly serious, requiring further efforts.

In addition, by introducing advanced security equipment as well as smart security lanes, we are making efforts to improve the security level at Narita Airport, and at the same time, to improve services for customers.

Given the significant increase in security-related costs, in order to enhance the thoroughgoing aviation security system and offer safety and pleasant journey for our customers, we will amend the International PSSC to cover the security-related costs incurred at Narita Airport.

As always, we remain committed to enhancing the quality of the aviation security system at Narita Airport.
