New Narita – Singapore (Changi) Service to be Launched by AirJapan on April 26, 2024

AirJapan (IATA code: NQ) will launch a scheduled passenger service between Narita and Singapore (Changi) on Friday, April 26, 2024. Singapore is a modern, multicultural city with many attractions that people from all over the world visit, such as Merlion Park, Marina Bay Sands, and other tourist spots.

Currently, the Narita-Singapore flights offer a variety of flight schedules and price ranges, but we expect AirJapan's new Narita-Singapore service, which offers high quality service at an affordable price, will attract a wider range of customers, especially among the young generation living both in Singapore and Japan.

We will continue to expand our networks at Narita to provide more choices convenience to our passengers.
