

Narita-based Japanese LCC, Spring Japan is to launch Narita – Kansai flight service !

Tokyo, 25 August 2016: Narita International Airport Corporation (NAA) is delighted to announce that Spring Japan (IATA code: IJ) will launch a new service between Narita and Kansai on 28 September 2016. Spring Japan began operating at Narita Airport in August 2014 and currently provides flights to two overseas destinations (Wuhan and Chongqing) and three domestic destinations (Hiroshima, Saga and New Chitose). The new Kansai service will be their fourth domestic route destination.

Narita Airport is striving to fulfill its role in offering domestic network not only for the resident in Japan but for tourist from overseas and thus we are delighted at this improvement in customer convenience on its Kansai Airport route, which will increase to maximum of 8 daily flights by 3 airlines.

Take advantage of Narita Airport's extensive air network which will soon be further expanded by Spring Japan flights.
